COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 22, 1880.

CONSOLS in London yesterday advanced from 97⅛ to 98; and French Rentes from 116½ to ¾; while in Enfaced Rupee Paper, Fours have advanced from 77¼ to 78½ and Fours-and-a-half from 85½ to 85¾.

In the Money market there is apparently no change, 3 months' bills being still discountable at 1½ and 4 months' at 2 per cent.

At the London Skin sales a decline of 1d. per lb. has been established in both Goat and Sheep Skins. Metals continue to show an upward tendency, Tile Copper being quoted £1, and Copper Braziers £1-10 per ton, and Yellow Metal ¼d. per lb. higher. Silesian Spelter is unchanged.

In the General Produce markets, Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are unchanged. In Seeds the only movement is a partial decline of 6d. per quarter in Calcutta Linseed. Indian Wheat, to arrive, is partially 1s. per quarter lower.

Piece Goods in Manchester yesterday continued firm, but from private sources we learn the enquiry was rather quieter.

In Liverpool the Cotton market yesterday, according to Reuter, closed quiet, sales 8,000 bales, spot prices unchanged except for a decline of 1-16d. in American. In New York, notwithstanding light receipts at the ports for the day, ready Mid. Uplands receded from 12⅜ to 12⅛, and April shipment from 13·26 to 12·95 cents per lb. This indicates a decidedly weaker feeling than the actual receipts would appear to justify; but we hear from private sources that American advices generally are against the market, and there can be no doubt that Sura's, to arrive, are unsaleable in Liverpool at cost price exclusive of commission altogether. The receipts to date give the following comparisons:—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Wednesday's Receipts	18,000	25,000	27,000
Five days' do.	111,000	95,000	113,000
Total since 1st Sept.	3,550,000	3,031,000	2,910,000

At the weekly bidding for Council drafts on India in London yesterday, of the 45 lakhs offered Rs. 35,40,000 were allotted on Calcutta at an average of 1s. 8 2·78d., Rs. 9,60,000 on Bombay at an average of 1s. 8½d.; tenders on both places receiving 31 per cent. of the amounts applied for. As compared with last week this shows an advance of ⅛d. per rupee, and in sympathy with this improvement, Bar Silver has advanced to 52½d. per oz., at which it is equivalent to about 1s. 8 3-16d. per rupee.

EXCHANGE this morning opened strong, owing to the rates obtained for Council drafts, at an advance of 1-32d. to 1-16d. per rupee, but notwithstanding advice from Calcutta of the Bank of Bengal rate of discount having been advanced 1 per cent., and exchange there being reported firm, no further advance has been established during the day. The general feeling is undoubtedly in favour of higher rates being established later on, but in the meantime with money so plentiful as it is, and very few bills making, it is too early yet for any upward movement of importance, and any material advance on present rates will probably only result in a rapid reaction. We quote to-day at the close:—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8 5-16d.	per Re.
Do. 4 months' sight...	1s. 8 7-16d.	,,
Credits 4 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 19-32d.	,,
Documents 4 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 21-32d.	,,
France 4 ,, ,, ...	2·16¼	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at 1-16 to ⅛ per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at 11-16 per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has naturally shown increased strength owing to the improvement in Exchange and the advance in rates at home, but there are no anxious buyers, and although the market is firmer it is not active. We quote:—Fours, Rs. 92½; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 101¼.

The SHARE market is quiet with only a moderate business passing. Bank of Bombay are 1 per cent. lower at Rs. 693½. In Land Companies the only movement is an advance of Re. 1 in Freres, and in Press Companies an advance of Rs. 5 in Bombay. Spinning and Weaving Companies are firm, and, as a general rule, Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share higher.

COTTON has been extremely dull to-day and transactions for export have been most limited. Owing to the demand to cover January shipment Fancy Cotton is practically unchanged in value, but for future delivery a decline of Rs. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy may be quoted. We call:—

Good Oomra,	January delivery.....	Rs.	242	per candy.
Do.	,, February	,,	 237	,,
Do.	,, March	,,	 233	,,
Do. Broach	,,	,,	 248	,,

SEEDS continue dull at unchanged prices.

FREIGHTS to-day have been very quiet and the engagements reported have been limited. For Liverpool we still quote 35s. ready and 32s. 6d. forward shipment. For Marseilles and Genoa 40s. and Trieste and Venice 43s. 9d. per ton, payable here.

PIECE GOODS are steady but no dearer. In the bazaar the clearances to-day are only estimated at about 300 packages; but to arrive there has been more doing owing to the advance in Exchange. Prices in Manchester, however, are still ahead of current rates here.

METALS are very strong at advancing rates.

COALS are strong, but to arrive it is impossible to quote actual prices as there are no real sellers.

THE DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

FROM THE LORD MAYOR, DUBLIN, AND INFLUENTIAL COMMITTEE, TO THE EDITORS OF THE INDIAN NEWSPAPERS.

We have the sad and disagreeable duty of telling, through you, all who sympathise with the misfortunes of our people, that the distress in Ireland has assumed fearful proportions, and that, unless extraneous aid be forthcoming in a liberal manner, death by starvation must overtake many.

Every effort is being made in Ireland itself, as well by local as by central relief committees, to mitigate the calamity, but owing to the general commercial and agricultural depression, and to the widespread character of the distress, those efforts have proved totally inadequate to meet the crisis.

We therefore appeal with confidence to all Irishmen and all friends of Ireland for aid in our efforts to save the people from destruction. We feel that we have only to make known the sad position of the Irish people to ensure everywhere a generous response.

We would point out the constitution of our committee, which comprises representative men of the highest character and position in the country, and of all creeds and positions, both as an assurance that this appeal is justified, and that any funds entrusted to us shall be distributed in the manner best calculated to meet the emergency.

We would beg of you to publish this appeal.

RAIDS ON THE HAZARA COUNTRY.

GATHERING OF ARMED BANDS AT SHERWAZA.

ALLAHABAD, KUTTRA, JAN. 22.

KABUL, Jan. 20.—In consequence of the line being cut nightly for weeks past at Basawul, no messages other than State have left Kabul for several days. The news brought in during these few days state that Mahomed Hassan Khan, ex-Governor of Jallalabad, turned off from the Ghazni road when proceeding to join Mahomed Jan, and raided into the Hazara country, burnt and looted several villages, and killed men, women, and children, in revenge of the Hazaras' action with the allies of the British in Logar.

Small bands of armed men are said to have gathered at Sherwaza, and more are said to be on their way from Ghazni. At the palace in Ghazni there are six regular regiments receiving regular pay and being drilled and trained by Mahomed Jan's lieutenants.

At Charikar the local chief with four hundred followers is living upon villagers, and threatens to raise the Kohistani Ghazis when Mahomed Jan marches again upon Kabul.

A FINE Kattyawar lion has just been brought from Indore for the Victoria Gardens. Yesterday ten thousand people visited the gardens to see the king of beasts, which held a durbar all the day long. He has a mane—Kattyawar lions are usually said to be maneless, but that is a fable—and he has a splendid head and large eyes. It is to be hoped that the Bombay Municipality will feed him well. He looks a little thin, and as if a few children or other succulent food would do him good. He is three years of age, and a wife from Baroda, where there are several Kattyawar lionesses, would doubtless add to his happiness. A suitable cage, too, would not be amiss; he is not at present very well housed, and during the monsoon he will be very uncomfortable, if he be not properly roofed in.

We hear by telegram that Mr. Michod, of the Bank of Bengal at Allahabad, has been transferred to take charge of the branch at Patna.

THE racing interest, says the Pioneer, has been hit hard at Lucknow (where races take place next month) by the exigencies of the service. The owners of three racing stables at that place have been sent to the front. Veterinary-Surgeon Anderson was sent two months ago to Kurram; Dr. Thorburn, attached to the 13th Hussars, has lately been sent to Peshawur; and Veterinary-Surgeon Garratt, 13th Hussars, has now been sent to Jhelum. These three gentlemen owned large racing stables. Mr. Garratt owned nineteen horses.

THE Maharaja of Kashmir has testified his gratitude for the escape of the Viceroy from the shots of Dossa in the practical manner of giving Rs. 2,100 to the Calcutta District Charitable Society.

THE Pioneer thinks that Army Doctors are the only people who can have an opinion worth the name, about such a matter as the recent reorganization of the administrative branch of the Army Medical Service. And, unfortunately for others, who want to understand the change Army Doctors will certainly be found to express the most divergent opinions on the subject. Some of these views are very strongly defined, already, in an unfavourable sense. And the effect on the students reading at home for the Indian Medical Service, has been, we are told, to drive many of them over to the British service. There are fifteen Bengalee Baboos reading in London for the Indian service; but the ardour of European aspirants seems to have been chilled. The amalgamation of the administrative duties, on the other hand, is certainly good in theory, and, perhaps, the anticipation that it will not work, may be refuted by experience. But the choral outcry, that the service has been ruined, is meanwhile very loud, and may prove to be justified.

ONE of the Poona papers says that a dacoity was perpetrated in the Khandalla village about four days ago.

THE local papers report that on the 7th instant a daring robbery was committed at the Poona Railway Station, when a bale containing sarees with broad gold borders, valued at Rs. 500, was stolen. The preliminary enquiries into the case were entrusted to Constable Shaik Ameen, but it was afterwards found necessary to depute Constable Goodall on this duty, and through his exertions the stolen property was recovered, but the thief, who is said to be a noted character, and was a convict for twelve years in the Yerrowda Jail, managed somehow or other to escape. His accomplices are in custody, and the case, in all probability, will be heard by the City Magistrate, as soon as the police authorities are prepared to prosecute.

THE Secretary of State has sanctioned the retirement, on the full pension of £1,000 a year, of Mr. E. G. Jenkinson, C.S., Commissioner in Oudh, with effect from the 2nd December last. Mr. Jenkinson's service was considerably under the necessary minimum, but the circumstances of his case were very exceptional, and the strong recommendation of the local Government had the desired effect.

COMMENTING upon the loya offers of native princes and others, to contribute to the expenses of the war, the Pioneer says it has reason to feel tolerably sure that these offers, gratifying and highly appreciated as no doubt they are, will be declined. The difficulty in the way is that, no matter how thoroughly spontaneous the offers made so far may have been, the Government could not take them up without seeming to ask for further subscriptions. No doubt a very large sum would be subscribed, but such an implied invitation were suffered to issue but how much of it would be really voluntar? A pressure would be brought to bear, by the mere existence of such an open list, which would lead natives to think that their loyalty would be measured by the amount they subscribed, and to greater part of the subscriptions would be virtually bribes which the payers would think entled them to some consideration from the Government.

THE Englishman says that the establishment of a Provident Fund in each of the Government offices is at present under consideration by the Government of India. It is thought that, while the uncovenanted Pension Fund provided for the wife and family of a clerk after his death, there was no agency through which, while living, he could relieve himself when in embarrassed circumstances caused through either sickness or family bereavement. In such a case he had to resort to money lenders, whose exorbitant rates of interest preclude the possibility of his ever freeing himself from their clutches. It has been suggested to Government that the clerks in each office should pay a small monthly sum from their salaries, those drawing large salaries and unencumbered, in the double sense of that term, which means free from debt and livin in single blessedness, paying more, interest being allowed for all sums so paid at the Government rate. Subscribers to the fund will be entitled to borrow sums proportionate to their salaries paying interest at a higher rate, the difference going to swell the fund. This scheme has been tried in the Preventive Service, and has been found to work admirably well. The present superintendent of that service, finding that many of the officers were hopelessly in debt and set to discount their salary bills monthly with money lenders, established a provident fund. In the course of a very short time the officers were able to clear their debts, and the money-lende now find their occupation literally gone. Even non-subscribers to the fund have the privilege of borrowing, and the rate of interest charged is three pies on the rupee. Subscribers are allowed interest at the Government rate. It is believed that some of the mercantile houses intend to adopt the same plan to help their assistants. One firm has already established a fund.

THE following extract from the Ultramar shows how Consular regulations are carried on by the Portuguese:—"In consequence of information received from the Portuguese Consul in Bonay that two cases of cholera had occurred the vessels coming from ports in the north are compelled to ride at quarantine on the high seas for five days. In pursuance of this measure a coasting steamer belonging to Messrs. M. Gois and Sons was obliged to perform a quarantine at Agooda, some of the passengers remaining three days without food. At 8 p.m. of the 18 another steamer belonging to the same company entered the Mandovy unaware of the above prohibitory orders, but had immediately steam back to Agooda."

MR. R. A. STERNDALE, Assistant Commissioner has been authorised to sign the notes issued by the Department of Issue of Paper Currency, at the offices of Issue included in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

AN area of about 84,000 acres was irrigated last year from the canals in the Ferozepur District.

THE Queen's printers are engaged upon the correspondence and other papers relating to Afghanistan and Central Asia. These documents, which are of a highly-interesting character, are likely to attain sensational pre-eminence from the fact that they will be found to include the letters and secret despatches received by the Amir Shere Ali from the Russian expedition to Central Asia and discovered by our troops in the Bala Hissar.

THE United Service Gazette says that there is a rumour to the effect that Lord Lytton has placed his resignation in Earl Beaconsfield's hands, so as to ensure the patronage of so rich an appointment as that of the Governor-Generalship of India being again a Conservative gift. His Lordship, it is said, will return home when wanted, and receive his earldom, and Lord George Hamilton may rule in his stead—the hopes of the friends of Lord Dufferin notwithstanding.

A CORRESPONDENT, writing to the Madras Mail, says "I see by the lists published in your columns, that the subscriptions towards the erection of a monument, or some such tribute, to the memory of the late Brigadier General Travers, are increasing rapidly. There is another officer, whom, I think, most Madrassees will agree with me in considering worthy of some recollection. I refer to the late Brigadier General McMaster, who died at Mooltan, almost at the same time as General Travers's death occurred. He served some thirty-six years in the Madras Presidency, without leaving it even for furlough, and I think there are few Madras officers who did not know him, and I am sure, none who did not like him,—and what sportsman does not or did not know the writings of 'Vagrant?' I have heard of no list of subscriptions being set on foot to perpetuate his memory in the Presidency, and I am writing this merely to make a suggestion, which, I hope, will not be considered out of place, that the names of the two Generals I have mentioned should be combined, and one monument erected to both. I believe they were fast friends when living, so why should not their memories be kept up together? I feel sure that no one who has already subscribed will form any objection to this, and moreover, there may be many who, though they may not have known General Travers, might wish to subscribe towards a monument to General McMaster.

TRADE is evidently improving in the Punjab, no less than ten joint stock companies, limited, having been registered in that province during the year 1878-79.

MR. BLISS, the Salt Commissioner of Madras, is going on special duty to Calcutta, and Mr. C. Croell officiates during his absence.

MR. J. D. GORDON, C.S.I., Chief Commissioner of Mysore, has arrived in Calcutta to consult with the Viceroy about the arrangements for making over that province to the young Maharaja.

IN consequence of the general failure of the silk trade, says the Statesman, there are at present in Calcutta a number of continental gentlemen, who have especially come to India to enquire into the silk produce of the country. One of these, Signor Papayanni, has, in the course of his travels, fallen upon a district on the confines of Burma and China, the inhabitants of which are in the habit of using the worm Bombyx attacus yarna maht, as food, when it is about to spin, or technically speaking when it is in its sixth stage. He states that the people regard it as a great delicacy. The chrysalis also is used as an article of food, being previously stripped of the cocoon, which is thrown away. The explorer, Signor Papayanni, we are informed, sent to Marseilles, in November last, a box containing a quantity of these cast-off cocoons, which he picked up on the road side, and which realised the handsome sum of Rs. 300. This enterprising gentleman, we learn, will shortly make a second trip.

THE sudden cooling of Ministerial zeal in the matter of the reform of Asiatic Turkey is generally supposed abroad to have been caused by hints from foreign Cabinets that it was highly inexpedient at present to open up so fertile a subject as any earnest interference on our part would have proved. The Petersburg correspondent of the Brussels Nord wrote last month:—You have been right in saying that the separate convention between England and the Porte relative to the island of Cyprus and Asia Minor does not bind any of the other Powers. Not only this, but they are ignorant of its existence, or rather for them it does not exist. By the Treaty of Berlin, Asia Minor remains subject to the stipulations of the Treaty of Paris, and England having signed both treaties she is, with regard to the other Powers, bound only by their stipulations. The question of this separate convention would certainly have been raised if Lord Beaconsfield's Cabinet, continuing its first attempts, had pretended to any particular rights in the internal affairs of Asia Minor.

Truth thinks that it certainly was remarkable that the Attorney-General, just before the Sheffield election, should have issued a fiat by which the question of the legality of the second sentence on the claimant will be argued, and that nearly 2,000 Sheffield believers in the imprisoned nobleman should have voted for the Conservative candidate. To say the least, the coincidence was unfortunate, more particularly if, as I am informed, the Attorney-General had refused to issue the fiat when previously asked.

MR. JOHN BRIGHT has written the following letter, dated December 28, on the export of gold, in reply to Mr. D'Arcy, a London cabman, who wrote asking him whether shortness of cash was not caused by its export for free imports:—"If you will spend sixpence for a small book called "Free Trade and English Commerce," by Mr. Mongredien, which you will easily find at the railway bookstalls, you may read and learn all you want to know on the subject of exports of gold to pay for our free imports that can have any effect on the shortness of cash of which you complain. The Fleet-street clique will doubtless have another lie ready for you as soon as you have answered the one with which they are now attempting to deceive you."

THE Slavonian Charitable Society at Moscow, which is in reality a purely political body, and the centre of the Panslavist movement, has resolved to afford assistance to the sufferers by the distre s in Upper Silesia so far as they are Slavs. There can be little doubt that in this instance the proposed charity is intended merely as a cloak for political agitation, and it is looked upon in that light in this country and resented accordingly.

THE Duke of Marlborough, says Truth, has intimated to Lord Beaconsfield his wish to retire from the Lord Lieutenancy of Ireland this year, whatever may be the result of the general election.

IN these hard times the following ingeniously-economical method of giving a dance will recommend itself to my lady readers, says Truth:—The intending hostess hires a public ball-room for a certain night, and proceeds to issue invitations to her friends. On each card are clearly marked the prices of admission: "Ladies, seven and sixpence; gentlemen, ten shillings each." The above idea was last week carried out at Canterbury with considerable success. Fiat experimentum.

MR. RICARDO, of the 9th Lancers, who is among the slain in the Afghan campaign, is, says Truth, a younger brother of the late Lady March.

IT is reported that Sir Garnet Wolseley will shortly return to England, says the United Service Gazette. Après? Where is he to go? Rumour says to India. But rumour also says, and with some authority, that the chief command in India has been promised already to Sir Edwin Johnson, and accepted by him.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

A CROWDED house assembled on Wednesday evening to witness the performance at the above theatre of Mr. Buckstone's comedy, "Married Life—" a piece which, though scarcely entitled to be hailed with the adjectives, brilliant or "sparkling," which describe the more generally dwelt on feature of this class of dramatic art, is yet one of those which afford an audience a capital evening's entertainment. The plot is not intricate, and the form of the play depends more upon the wit of the actors than upon the dialogue, the very best portions of which would undoubtedly fall flatly enough, did the actors fail to realise their characters. Such being the case, to say that the audience laughed frequently and heartily, is to assert that the piece was well produced. Mr. Hewitt, who has already made himself a favourite by his excellent low comedy, deserving special mention as Mr. Dove, the ex-waiter and footman who, having married "above him," is desirous of appearing creditably in good society, but through the force of habit is perpetually making blunders. The characters of the play are five gentlemen and their better halves. Mr. and Mrs. Lynx, who are not quite happy in their domestic intercourse, the lady being suspicious and the gentleman having a secret relative to a young lady, which he declines to explain. Mr. Coddle, the hypochondriac, is matched to a lady who, being represented by Miss Madge Antoinette, it is needless to say is all life and energy. Mr. Younghusband, but recently married to his fair spouse, perpetually engaged in contradicting her as he is in contradicting him. Mr. Dismal, whose lemnity would fit him equally well for an undertaker, or a Chadband, and Mrs. Dismal, ose goggles and ringlets render her, as far as bearance goes, an admirable companion to lord and master, but regards him as recklessly ifferent to her wishes; and last, though aredly not least, Mr. Dove, whose character-ics we have just described, and Mrs. Dove, w is perpetually shocked and worried by the igrance and blunders of her husband. Briefly oned up, the play runs as follows:—Mr. Lynx eives a letter, inviting him to meet an unknown lady on certain place and time, and having kept appointment only to be disappointed, finds this wife wrote the letter, but receives hisconfession with considerable indifference. Meanwhile she learns that some two years previously he had committed a young lady to the care of Mr. and Mrs. Dove. To ward off her enquiries he calls in the aid of Mr. Coddle, whom he has over to his cause by a whispered warning out a "lady in black," and throws Coddle intoit of trepidation, by the thought that the lady question can prosecute him for bigamy. In the end Mrs. Lynx determines to solve her husband's secret, and for this purpose gathers all the dramatis personæ in her drawing-room. A most ludicrous scene ensues. The gleemen all quarrelling with their wives, one mied couple after another goes off, the lady line direction, the gentlemen in another, but es and all vowing never to see one another again, and the curtain falls upon the affable Mr. Dove ring himself away from his pleading "dear, ho attempts in vain to expostulate with him. Third act brings about the reconciliation of the disjointed couples, explains Mr. Lynx's secret satisfactorily, banishes the spectra execution for bigamy which destroyed poor Coe's sleep, and the curtain falls upon a scene of pliness which, with its preceding incidents, strongly advise the play-goers of Bombay take the first opportunity of witnessing for themselves.

THE DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT NULL BAZAAR.—The damage caused by the above fire is estimated as follows:—house property destroyed, Rs. 18,000; goods, &c. Rs. 15,000. The chawl which formed the range of shops before Mr. Kerser, the Magistrate of Sholapur, on the 12th instant, and after the examination of only two witnesses, the prosecution, represented by Mr. Vincent, the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Bombay, abandoned the case, and stated that it seemed useless to call any of the other witnesses. The cross-examination of the principal witness, a native Christian, named Lazarus, who was second butler in Mr. Scott's service at the time of deceased's death, completely established the impossibility of Scott having had anything to do with it, and so disposed of an unfounded charge which need never have given rise to the painful proceedings which ensued, if the Bombay authorities had exercised a little prudence and caution at first.

Mr. Scott and his wife became friends on the Bombay and Deccan State Railway in the beginning of last May, and were obliged to move into camp, where they remained during the hot weather and rains, except when occasionally Mrs. Scott had an opportunity of living in a rest-house or bungalow. During all this time she suffered severely from physical derangement and, later, from fever. On the 28th of July her husband went on duty to the camp of an old friend, who, with his wife and family, had come from Sind and joined the railway line about the same time as he had done. On the same day the deceased wrote a letter to her brother in America, which she re-wrote on the 1st August, and sent to him with the direction that it should not be opened for a month, unless something unusual occurred in the meantime. In it she stated that her husband had threatened to kill her, and told her brother to arrange for his prosecution in case she died. She complained of bowel and liver diseases, for which she received medicines from missionaries, to whom alone she seems to have communicated any information regarding her illness. They prescribed medicines for her; among others, the phosphate of strychnine, a wine glass of which was given to her by Mr. Scott's cook while driving in an open cart a long march of ten miles. Her fever became worse, and was accompanied by diarrhœa or dysentery, but it was not observed that anything more unusual occurred in the matter. On the night of the 27th August Mr. Scott, while at work in his tent, about 10 o'clock, heard sounds proceeding from her tent, and went there. He found her delirious, and gave her some whisky, soda, and milk, which revived her and he returned to his labours, nothing further attracting his attention until her beyond one of the fits to which she had been subject. Next morning, the 28th August, she was found dead in her bed, with her features perfectly calm, having apparently passed away in peace.

Mr. Scott at once communicated the news of her death to his friends, and after some time had her buried, as best he could, close to the camp, intending to have the body removed at a more suitable time to a proper burying-ground. He did not, unfortunately, deem it necessary to have an inquest held, and nothing occurred till towards the end of October, when the letter, sent to the brother of deceased in America, reached this country through the American Consul and was forwarded to the Government. The result of the first ballot showed that out of 398,380 votes recorded M. Favre obtained only 12,028 against 10,033 given to Rochefort and 7,437 to Cantagrel. The latter thereupon retired, but M. Rochefort maintained his candidature. M. Favre, however, was returned by 18,267 votes against 14,503 given to his opponent. On the downfall of the Empire and the establishment of the Government of the National Defence, he was appointed Governor of Paris, on the 19th September, 1870, in which capacity he proceeded, on the 18th of that month, to the headquarters of the King of Prussia at Ferrieres, in order to consult with Count Bismarck as to the terms on which an armistice could be arranged for the purpose of permitting elections for a Constituent Assembly to take place. The negotiation came to nothing, in consequence of Count Bismarck insisting as a preliminary condition, on the surrender of Strasburg, Toul, and Verdun. In January, 1871, M. Favre was invited by Lord Granville to attend, as representative of France, the conference held in London on the Black Sea question, but he declined to do so for various reasons, one of the principal being the refusal of Count Bismarck to provide him with a safe-conduct. M. Favre occupied the office of Minister for Foreign Affairs, July 23, 1871, and on the 1st of the following month he made his re-appearance in his robes as a barrister in the Salle des Pas Perdus, at the Palace of Justice. Since then he has resumed his regular practice at the bar. He was elected batonnier of the Order of Advocates at Paris in August 1869, and again in 1861, and a member of the French Academy in May, 1867. Many of his most famous speeches have been published, and he is also the author of several pamphlets.

THE CHARGES AGAINST MR. SCOTT.

THE case against Mr. Scott, Executive Engineer, who was charged with having caused the death of his wife, came before Mr. Kerser, the Magistrate of Sholapur, on the 12th instant, and after the examination of only two witnesses, the prosecution, represented by Mr. Vincent, the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Bombay, abandoned the case, and stated that it seemed useless to call any of the other witnesses. BEST QUALITY TRIPLE ELECTRO-PLATE.
MANUFACTURED TO THE SPECIAL ORDER OF
C. MARCKS AND COMPANY,

BOMBAY, 4, Hummum Street.
POONA, 1, East Street.

WE long hesitated before undertaking this important branch of business, as we are aware of the immense amount of inferior articles manufactured and sold as the best quality (Electro-plate having so many qualities) by unscrupulous traders and eventually giving no satisfaction to purchasers.

After mature deliberation we have had a large quantity made expressly for us by a leading firm, and as our goods are triple-plated (i. e., have undergone the silvering process THREE TIMES, thereby ensuring a heavy coating of PURE SILVER), of superior hard white metal), we can guarantee them to stand ordinary usage for twenty years.

We specially invite the attention of Presidents of Clubs, Hotels, &c., &c., to our stock of goods. Amongst others we recommend the following:—

CURE OF RHEUMATISM AND SCORBUTIC ERUPTION.

The Elms, North Cheam, Surrey, 3rd March, 1875.

"SIR,—I had been suffering from rheumatism for several years, together with scorbutic eruption of the skin, of a most virulent nature, about the size of the palm of the hand, and was induced to try your Blood Mixture in consequence of two gentlemen in my neighbourhood having been cured of obstinate sores on the body. After taking two bottles, I became much better, and continued it up to the tenth bottle, when I found myself entirely free from rheumatism and health restored, and my arm was healed. I consider it a most valuable medicine.
